

"ALL YOUR BASE: LAST OF LAST" The Card Game

An amusing card game based on the animated sci-fi short produced by talcMedia.

After the premiere of the short film "All Your Base: Last Of Last" on November 1, 2017 to audiences across the world, talcMedia released a companion card game, aptly named "All Your Base: Last of Last The Card Game".

"All Your Base: Last of Last The Card Game" is a fast paced 2 to 6 player game that pits players against each other to capture bases, as in, "All Your Base." Using graphics from the movie, the cards allow players to see who will become the ruler of the universe.

Cards include: Zig Fighters, Destroyers, Battle Cruisers, Dreadnoughts, and the Zero Wing ship. But nothing is straightforward, as there are also Red Alert cards that can throw winning plans awry. Players have "no chance to survive, so make your time."

GAME FACTS:

- CATEGORY: Strategy Card Game
- NUMBER OF CARDS: 108 double-card deck
- PLAYERS: 2 to 6
- AGE: 5 and over
- OBJECTIVE: Capture the required number of (All Your) Bases

WHAT DO YOU GET IN THE BOX?

- BASE cards: From Alpha to Omega, these cards are like your spatial houses where you are going to store ships, so you need to protect them from your enemies' attacks.
- RED ALERT cards: The Red Alert cards are the ones that shake things up for everyone during the game. There are different strategies that you can use to get different results, but in any case, you must use them wisely.
- SHIP cards: Depending on the ship, you will get different defense and attack points. Some have huge attack and defense points but the most common ship is the Zig fighter.
- CREW cards: With every member of the crew, you receive extra attack points. Your strategy must take into account these points together with the ships because the crew offers you no additional defense points.

ENGAGE BRAINS and have FUN! You need to observe, plan, make calculations, and think fast. Try to outsmart your opponents by using your imagination! Get into your roles, and each time you play, it will be a memorable moment for you, your friends, and your family.

HISTORY OF "ALL YOUR BASE NOW REALLY ARE BELONG TO US"

There was an arcade game made in Japan by Toaplan that had a short intro video (or "cut scene") to the game "Zero Wing." The original Japanese script was poorly translated into English. The game never made it big in the West; however, the broken English translation for the opening video became one of the first "memes" on the Internet.

In the cut scene, the alliance's mighty Zero Wing battle cruiser has been sabotaged. As bombs slowly rip the ship apart, the crew panics and the Captain freezes when he sees his arch enemy "CATS" on the holo-screen. CATS taunts the crew as he belts out his infamous line "All Your Base Are Belong To Us" and bids the crew a fiery farewell.
